DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "determining steps" in line 9. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 2663

4. Claims 1, 2, and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by anticipated by Wang et al (U.S. Patent 6,185,250 B1).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Regarding to claims 1 and 5, Wang discloses a method for detecting and compensating for telephone network impairment in signal transmissions between a transmitting modem 170 and a receiving modem 101 coupled together via a telephone network 150 employing robbed bit signaling during super frames (Fig. 1), comprising the steps of repetitively transmitting and receiving a known training symbol (learning sequence) through said network to a receiving modem (Fig. 3 col. 6 lines 1-3); mapping 605/613/624 said training symbol at said receiving modem to a high or to a low level value for said symbol (Fig. 6 col. 6 lines 51-67 and col. 7 lines -15; the training symbol is maps to levels of $MSE < \delta_1$, $\delta_2 > MSE$, and $\delta_1 < MSE < \delta_2$); repeating said transmitting and determining steps for a number of different known training symbol levels (col. 6 lines 38-42; the process is repeats for 128 levels) to establish a slicer table 260 that compensates for the nature of the impairment caused by said robbed bit signaling (Fig. 4 col. 6 lines 45-50).

Art Unit: 2663

Regarding to claim 2, Wang discloses a constellation of symbol levels is determined from said repetitive transmitting of said known training symbol levels (Fig. 5 col. 5 lines 13-18).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3, 4, and 6-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Claims 9 and 10 are allowed.
